Greeting Parents,

Celebrating our school successes is a vital part of our everyday lives at Bridge to Independence Private School. Over the last 13 years, we have strived to build a community of learners that can become an integral part of our society. Our students, parents and staff have worked together to create and reach many successes. Recognizing these accomplishments is important in building self-esteem of our students. We are excited to announce that our students, teachers, and staff celebrated National School Choice Week (January 21-28, 2018) with many special events.
